Two Spirit is a contemporary term that many American Indian/Alaska Native (AI/AN), and First Nations people identify with to bring together their sexual orientation, and gender identity with their spirituality, traditions, and culture. This term was adopted at the 1990 Native American and First Nations Gay and Lesbian conference in Winnipeg. It comes from the Ojibwa words niizh manitoag (Two Spirit).

Not all AI/ANs consider themselves Two Spirit and identify as lesbian, gay, bisexual, transgender, or third, fourth, or fifth gender. Many AI/AN tribes had more flexibility in sexuality and greater gender diversity with four or five gender roles or identifications that were honored and respected. 574 federally recognized tribes speak over 200 languages, with most having terms/names for gender identity, social, and spiritual roles. The term Two Spirit is not accepted by all AI/AN Lesbian, Gay, Bisexual, Transgender, and Queer (LGBTQ). For some tribes, when Two Spirit is translated into traditional language, it can mean something inappropriate or dangerous.

Colonization negatively impacted tribal traditions, language, culture, and the social and spiritual roles of individuals in tribal communities. As a result, some tribes took this knowledge underground to prevent further desecration of their way of life. By the mid-1800s, tens of thousands of AI/ANs were forcefully removed from their traditional homelands, and systematic assimilation policies were put in place. Between 1880 and 1930, a significant number of AI/AN children were placed in off-reservation boarding schools. By 1930, nearly half of all AI/AN children attending boarding schools that were often hundreds of miles away from their homes. The students were forbidden to engage in cultural practices or speak their languages, suffering harsh punishment if they disobeyed. Christian standards of conduct were strictly enforced with the prohibition of cultural practices and conformity to rigid gender roles. The historical trauma increased contemporary Two Spirits’ to struggle with identity and mental health. Historical trauma is defined as an unresolved trauma resulting in grief that continues to impact the lives of survivors and subsequent generations, often referred to as intergenerational trauma. Historical trauma profoundly affects health disparities and health outcomes of all AI/ANs, but even more so among Two Spirit people.

There is very little research or data on LBGTQ Two Spirit Elders. The information presented may refer to AI/ANs in general.
ELDER STATUS
Becoming an Elder in many AI/AN communities is not typically at a set age, but is a distinct cultural status earned from wisdom, knowledge, and responsibility to others, to name a few traits and qualities. Being an Elder is different than being elderly. Elderly is associated with age and ability for care for oneself. Elder and elderly status varies from tribe to tribe. Out of respect, the term Elder will be used.

HOUSING & SAFETY
• Urban AI/ANs tend to have less social support and a long history of circular migration and residential mobility (i.e., regular travel between urban settings and reservations).
• Many LGBTQ and Two Spirit AI/ANs struggle to find safety. In one state survey, nearly 1 in 3 LGBTQ and Two-Spirit AI/ANs (29.4%) reported experiencing hate violence—a higher rate than any other LGBTQ group.11
• AI/AN lesbian, bisexual, and Two Spirit women revealed a high prevalence of both sexual (85%) and physical (78%) assault.7
• 47% of AI/AN transgender experience housing discrimination and have been denied a home or apartment.11

CAREGIVING AND LONG-TERM CARE
• Tribes pay for long-term care with funding from various federal agencies, such as the Centers for Medicare and Medicaid Services and the Administration for Community Living, along with their own resources.
• AI/ANs prefer to age in their own homes. Many communities are rural, and sometimes lack electricity, running water, and may only be accessible by dirt roads making it difficult to age in place.8
• Long-term care facilities continue to employ staff who lack an understanding of sexuality and sexual diversity in the elderly.
• Concerns and fears of LGBTQ Elders being admitted to a long-term care facility include:
  o Potential rejection or neglect by healthcare providers
  o Lack of acceptance and respect by fellow residents
  o Feeling that it is necessary to hide their sexual orientation9

DISCRIMINATION & VIOLENCE
• Two Spirit people have significant disparities across multiple areas when compared with the general U.S. population.
• More than 35% of Two Spirit and transgender individuals report having lost a job because of their gender identity.
• 37% of Two Spirit and AI/AN LGBTQ people report not having full-time employment.
• 78% of AI/AN women who identify as bisexual, lesbian, or Two Spirit, have experienced physical assault, and 85% have experienced sexual violence.11

There is very little research or data on LGBTQ Two Spirit Elders. The information presented may refer to AI/ANs in general.
HEALTH STATUS

- Two Spirit people are considered to be at higher risk for adverse health outcomes than other AI/ANs. 7
- Between 2000 and 2010, the number of AI/AN, age 65 or older, increased by 40.5%, growing at double the rate of the overall older population. 8
- Elderly AI/ANs are the most underserved individuals in the US.
- In 2013, Two Spirit men accounted for 71% of new HIV diagnoses within the AI/AN population. 11
- 56% of AI/AN transgender and gender-nonconforming respondents in a national survey attempted suicide, compared with 41% of all other transgender groups.
- Urban LGBTQ and Two Spirit AI/AN experiences of discrimination decreased their self-rated health and increased self-reported physical pain and impairment. 12
- Urban AI/ANs experience higher social, health, and economic problems, with less access to AI/AN-specific resources than those who reside within tribal lands.
- Urban AI/ANs typically do not have Indian Health Service available compared to AI/ANs who reside within tribal lands. 13

FINANCIAL RESOURCES

- Many AI/AN Elders lead a life that is characterized by poverty, deprivation, poor health, poor housing, and significantly limited social opportunities. 14

BY THE NUMBERS

23%
In 2008, 23% of LGBTQ and Two Spirit people were living in extreme poverty. 11

38%
HAD NO VEHICLE AVAILABLE

53%
HAD NO TELEPHONE

26%
LACKED PLUMBING

32%
LIVED IN ONE-PERSON HOUSEHOLDS. 11

REFERENCES